Whats The Guide Coat On

The guide coat is misted onto the surface leaving a spotty looking finish. After the guide coat dries you can take a long block sander and sand the panel in an "X" pattern; paying attention to how the guide coat comes off the panel. You will notice that 99% of the guide coat will come off with the first round of sanding. If there are any major lows the guide coat will settle in those areas and remain after block sanding.
